DELIGHTFUL TRIP

MISS HOUDYSHEL AND THREE FRIENDS VISIT MANY PLACES

Miss Sadie Houdyshel of 308 N. Orange street has just returned from a four weeks' trip during which she visited various points of interest. She was accompanied by three friends from Santa Fe Springs.

Their first stop after leaving Los Angeles was made at Salt Lake City. While at the Mormon city they visited all the points of interest, attended the organ recital in the tabernacle, viewed the exterior of the Temple, which only good Mormons may enter, and swam in the Great Salt Lake.

Their next stop was at Yellowstone Park, which they found teeming with visitors at this time of year. Words cannot describe the beauty and grandeur of this place which is our largest national park. The geysers proved very interesting and unusual this year. Old Faithful playing about fifteen minutes more frequently than had been its usual custom. Wild animals are somewhat scarce this summer. Many thousands of deer, elk, hare, etc., wandered outside the domains of the park and have been killed by hunters. Many more starved during the winter. The weather was delightfully cool at Yellowstone with showers sometime during every day.

The next stop made by these young ladies was at Seattle, from where they took the trip to Vancouver, B. C. The latter they pronounced a delightful city, having in its residence section some of the finest homes they had ever seen. All of the country between Seattle and Vancouver seemed very prosperous with good buildings and abundant crops.

After returning to Seattle they came down to Portland, taking the famous Columbia Highway drive while there. From there they came south to Montague in the Shasta country, where Miss Houdyshel stopped to visit her brother, Allan, formerly of Glendale. This region is very warm and dry at this time of the year, with many forest fires raging in the Siskiyou.

While gone they heard many exaggerated reports of the earthquakes in Los Angeles, being told that there were as many as fourteen in one day. However, all the girls agreed that after seeing so many beautiful places they were satisfied to live in Southern California.

RESIDENTS FROM KANSAS PLEASED

Mr. and Mrs. Spier, who bought the James Ewins place at 615 South Verdugo Road and who have been in possession for about five weeks, came from Salina, Kansas, and are enjoying their new home very much. Mrs. Spier is particularly enthusiastic over their charming scenic location and friendly neighbors though she has found it rather strenuous caring for their beautiful grounds during the hot weather when so much irrigation has been necessary. When asked whether she minded the earthquake shocks she said no, that she came from the cyclone belt and the brief anxiety of an earthquake is not to be compared in nerve strain with the worry of a cyclone which may be lengthened into hours. Mr. and Mrs. Ewins have moved to Los Angeles.

BIRTHDAY FEAST

DR. HOGUE SURPRISED ON RETURNING FROM SUNDAY AUTO TOUR

Dr. and Mrs. Roy V. Hogue are entertaining old friends, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Barnes, of Springfield, Missouri, at whose wedding they were the attendants. They are very anxious to persuade their friends to forsake Missouri and locate in Southern California and to that end took them on a sight-seeing trip through the San Fernando Valley Sunday. The visitors are greatly impressed with the country but strong inducements will have to be offered to wean them from "the land of the big red apple." Sunday was Dr. Hogue's birthday and during his absence on this automobile tour his sisters, Mrs. Owens and Mrs. Marmaduke, of Moberly, Mo., prepared a birthday feast which was ready when the auto party returned, including a handsome birthday cake. It was a complete surprise to the doctor and he enjoyed it immensely. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Marmaduke and her son Sanford Marmaduke, Dr. and Mrs. Hogue and their son Benjy.

TRACTOR SHOWN

A FORDSON DEMONSTRATES ITS EFFICIENCY ON CITY LOTS

The Glendale Street Department picked out three of the roughest vacant tracts that could be found among the city's vacant lots and this morning a Fordson tractor pulling a gang of two plows and driven by T. J. Nettekoven went to work tearing up the hard soil, and brushing aside weeds, tin cans, pieces of concrete, etc. Then a disc was attached to the tractor and run over the plowed surface smoothing it out nicely. Two more tracts, one at Central avenue and Hawthorne and the other at Brand and Lexington Drive will be treated likewise this afternoon. This tractor is a little fellow, a 10-20, but it certainly does the work satisfactorily. The city may buy one of them for regular use.

While the demonstration was going Tom Smith stood by covered with dust and smiles, and was delighted at the way the little giant he takes so much pride in did its work.

DINNER AND DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hurlbert of 348 West Park avenue entertained with a dinner Thursday evening for Miss Marjorie Imler and Mrs. Eugene Imler who are leaving tonight for Berkeley. It was a very smartly appointed affair at which covers were laid for Miss Mary Messer, Miss Grace Doudy, Lorry Morrison, Harry Dugas, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Imler, Miss Imler, Russell, Harold, June and Carol Hurlbert and the host and hostess. The dinner was followed by an evening of music and dancing.

GUEST FOR THE TURKS

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Turck of South Glendale avenue for several days have been awaiting the arrival of their little ten-year-old granddaughter from Chicago who was coming to the coast with a friend. Their train was due to arrive Sunday night between five and six, but when the Turks went to the station they found the train was ten hours late. That there might be no slip Mrs. Turck left home this morning at 4 o'clock for Los Angeles but had not returned at eight o'clock so the train was probably more than ten hours late. The little girl will be with her grandparents until October.

GOLDEN TROUT

James A. Farrell of 400 Patterson avenue in company with George Clayton, Charles Kent and a friend of theirs, will leave Wednesday for Cottonwood Creek in the high Sierras where, it is said, the only golden trout in the world are to be had. At Lone Pine they will forsake autos and make the balance of the journey on horseback over narrow mountain trails. They are planning to hunt as well as to fish for the deer season will open in that part of the north August 15th, and will be gone a week or ten days.

PEAR DAY

SEVERAL GLENDALIANS ATTEND CELEBRATION AT LITTLE ROCK, ANTELOPE VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Willisford and Mr. and Mrs. John Robert White had a most interesting tour of Antelope Valley on Saturday during which they traversed portions of the San Fernando Valley, traversed Mint Canyon and visited Palmdale, Lancaster and Little Rock, where the annual pear festival was held. Visitors were present from all parts of Southern California and all were entertained at a cafeteria luncheon. The Willisfords were greatly impressed by the redemption of the desert to profitable orchards. In the course of their travels they called upon Robert McAdam at Palmdale whose bride was Miss Ruby Farnsworth of Glendale. He is a pear orchardist and has a fine stone house, the walls of which are thick enough to keep out the extreme summer heat. The McAdams' also have the luxury of cheap electricity for heating, lighting and power. The celebration was attended by several other Glendalians including Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thompson of West Broadway, who have pear orchards there, and Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Sipple of North Adams street. The party also met Mr. Sholes who resided in Glendale for about three years and who owns a thirty-acre fruit ranch adjoining Little Rock. He showed them a tree which is carrying a load of 2600 pears.

MILITARY ACTIVITY AGAINST RUSSIA

LLOYD GEORGE STRIVES TO SECURE SOME SOLUTION OF POLAND'S PROBLEM THAT WILL AVOID WAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The entire Russian situation is going before the British Cabinet tonight and before Parliament tomorrow, according to decisions reached by the Premiers' conference at Hythe on Sunday. The situation today is as follows:

Russia having refused the British proffer of a ten-day truce has proposed another meeting of the armistice delegates to be held at Minsk on Wednesday.

Meantime the Russian offensive is continuing seriously. Steady streams of refugees are following westward from Warsaw with peasants fleeing into the city from the east and north closely pursued by Russian cavalry.

Lloyd George is apparently striving his hardest to reach some solution other than actual military activity against Russia, according to opinion expressed in official circles.

THE CHAPLINS IN COURT

HEARING IN DIVORCE SUIT BROUGHT BY MILDRED HARRIS CHAPLIN POSTPONED TO AUGUST 19

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Deputy sheriffs assigned to serve papers on Charley Chaplin, who is being sued for divorce by his wife Mildred Harris Chaplin, have not been able to locate him, they reported to the Superior Court here today. Failure to secure service caused a continuance of the hearing to make permanent a temporary order restraining Chaplin from disposing of his property pending the hearing of the divorce suit. The case will be heard August 19.

KENTUCKY SCORES

WINS HIGHEST HONORS SO FAR IN CHRISTIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL CONTEST

When regular and transient attendants of the Central Christian Bible School entered the building yesterday morning they beheld a vision of beauty. Beautiful flowers and greenery filled every stand and nook, a row of cornstalks banked the front of the choir loft and two pictures of Lincoln hung high on the walls, one under arched American flags and the other in between large letters K Y, the bottom half done in red and white stripes and the upper half spangled with white stars on a blue ground. Above this stretched, in letters of the same size (fully 18 inches high) and construction, the state's motto, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall." A large flag hung just below this and a smaller one was so arranged that an electric fan kept it constantly opened out and fluttering as if in the breeze. Miss Bertha Jackson gave two delightful short readings, "That's Where the South Begins," and "In Kentucky," and then "Old Kentucky Home" was beautifully sung by a concealed chorus.

The morning sermon was by Elder Floyd Mercer, a layman, on the subject, "Go Forward." Briefly recalling to the memory of his hearers the story of the call of Abraham and the promise to him, later repeated to Isaac and Jacob; then the leading out of Egypt by Moses of the children of Israel and God's command to them to "Go forward," when they came to the Red Sea, he applied this admonition to the church and its membership today in a very clear and forceful manner. Miss Margaret Dick contributed a beautiful contralto solo to this part of the service.

Willard Learned, another layman, who is studying to be a medical missionary, gave the evening sermon, on the "Manliness of Christ." He said the old masters and many writers dwelt too much on the sorrowful side of Christ's character and on what seemed to be his weaknesses. He held that true manliness and unswerving loyalty to His Father's business characterized His entire public life and besought His hearers to copy these traits in His life. Miss Elizabeth Mottern gave the special musical number, a beautiful solo.

HUNTING TRIP

P. F. Rentrow, J. S. Thompson and the latter's eldest son, Harold enjoyed a few days' outing in Monterey county last week. They went up there to hunt but had not much success, owing to the crowds of eager seekers after game who fairly thronged the hills and valleys. They would get up at 2 o'clock in the morning to go out and take their stations so they could shoot the deer and other animals as they sought their familiar paths.

ENTERTAIN FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hale of 329 Howard entertained at dinner last Wednesday evening in honor of the wedding of their youngest daughter, Bessie M. Hale, to Joseph Lee Kirkpatrick on Tuesday August 3d. Wednesday was also the occasion of Mr. Hale's 68th birthday. Mrs. Hale's table was tastefully arranged with a profusion of pink rosebuds and ferns. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Thiessen of Louise street, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bomb of Laurel Canyon, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Hale and the bride and groom.

BEACH OUTING

MRS. W. S. HAMMOND AND VISITING RELATIVES ENJOY STAY AT REDONDO

Mrs. W. S. Hammond, 118 South Jackson street, her son Earl, and daughters Mesdames Ray H. Hamill and Frank O. Roberts and two little grand-daughters have had a delightful time at Redondo Beach. Mr. Hamill spent the week-end with them and all returned Saturday evening last. Mrs. Roberts and little daughter Florence will return to their home in Oakland after spending a few days visiting relatives and friends here and in Los Angeles. This is Mrs. Roberts' first visit to Southern California since she was a little girl and she is wonderfully pleased with Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Hamill will leave for their Idaho home in about ten days after a stay here of several months. Mr. Hammond says he supposes his vacation will be to attend the Iowa picnic next Saturday at Long Beach.

SORORITY FRIENDS

MISS MARJORIE IMLER ENTERTAINS FELLOW SIGMA KAPPAS

Miss Marjorie Imler of Palm Villa, Park avenue, has been entertaining a group of sorority friends who are members of the Sigma Kappa. It included Miss Alice Eastwood, her sister, Miss Blanche Eastwood of Oxnard, Miss Viola Nichols of Saticoy and Miss Emilie Poppy of Sonoma. Friday evening the group, augmented by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Imler, and Miss Mildred Wight of Eagle Rock, went to Pasadena to attend the wedding of Miss Donna Leavins (also a Sigma Kappa) to Arthur Stert, Jr., of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, who attended Throop College of Technology and belonged to the Sigma Alpha Phi fraternity of which Mr. Imler is a member. Four of the party returned to Oxnard Saturday night, Miss Blanche Eastwood left for Berkeley Sunday night and tonight Miss Imler and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Eugene Imler, will go north to the university city. After visiting a brother in Berkeley, Mrs. Imler will go on to the home of her parents in Marshfield, Oregon. She expects to be gone about a month.

BRUSH FIRE

A grass and brush fire made things lively for residents of South Verdugo Road Sunday afternoon for a few minutes. It burned over ten or fifteen acres just below the Glendale city limits from Verdugo Road to the top of the hill on the west reaching the McIntyre place but doing no serious damage. Men and boys of the neighborhood fought it efficiently with wet gunny sacks and the excitement was soon over. Both the Glendale and Los Angeles fire departments sent details of fire fighters and one or two engines each, but the home guard did the main work of quenching the flames.

BRALYS' TRIP

RETURN FROM INTERESTING TRIP TO SAN DIEGO AND CORONADO BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly returned Friday night from San Diego and Coronado Beach. Mr. Braly's special object in making the trip was to attend a meeting of officials of the Southwest Irrigation Association which is pushing the further development of the resources of the Colorado River. Mr. Braly was a delegate and with others was summoned to hear the reports of Mulholland, Lippincott and other engineers working on the project with a view to preparing a budget of funds which the government will be asked to provide for preparatory work. The meeting was held at Hotel Grant and the day following the Bralys went to Coronado Beach. They returned to Los Angeles especially to attend a session of the Men's City Club which was addressed on Saturday by Dr. Gilbert Reid, who is lecturing in this country on civic, political and religious conditions in the Orient. For thirty-eight years he has been a missionary in China and is president of the School of Technology in Shanghai. Years ago when on a tour around the world Mr. Braly was entertained by Dr. Reid in that city. He was therefore very glad to renew the acquaintance and persuaded the doctor to accompany him and Mrs. Braly to Glendale and be their guest until he left for La Jolla Sunday afternoon.

Miss Scripps of San Diego, founder of the Biological Institute and Station at La Jolla, a wealthy and philanthropic woman, is paying the expenses of Dr. Reid on this tour that he may present to the American people the real facts in regard to conditions in the Orient and correct many exaggerated and false impressions which are circulating in this country. He thinks the differences between China and Japan will be adjusted and that there will be no serious trouble between them. Mrs. Braly pronounces him a wonderfully interesting and intelligent man whom it is a great pleasure to meet. They also enjoyed meeting Dr. Ritter who is at the head of the Biological Station at La Jolla and who likewise thoroughly posted in regard to Oriental conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Lyons of 122 West Palmer avenue, motored to Huntington Beach for the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. G. Peck and daughter. Mrs. Lyons' father, Bert Burlingham of El Centro is visiting her.

NEW WAR CLOUD OVER EUROPE

Slowly, but none the less surely, Europe is being made the stage for another Game of Death.

While statesmen and officials of the victorious nations are striving for petty national advantages and haggling over trivial details of a peace already concluded, another war cloud, far greater and blacker and more ominous than that which swept Europe in 1914 is moving toward the continent from the North.

Its greatest menace lies in failure of the big and powerful nations to recognize the danger to world peace that it presents.

While the wise men of Europe fiddle and play with fire, Poland is being plunged into martyrdom far more crushing and humiliating than that suffered by Belgium.

Overrun by a fantastical horde of conquering millions which is making the little republic a gateway to world conquest, she appeals vainly for aid while her little army fights against overwhelming odds with heroism probably unequalled in history.

Rumania plans to mobilize all her men of fighting age to repel the same aggressor; Germany watches his presence on her border in alarm.

Only united action by the European powers which were victorious over Germany will prevent another world cataclysm. And the world may know sooner than it realizes how long these powers can postpone steps which today would check this new menace without inviting disaster.

WORK AND LIFE

A woman lecturer is going about the country organizing century clubs, the membership being composed of men and women who expect to live one hundred years, and then begin life over again. Her audiences generally consist of leading citizens, public educators and persons apparently living ideal lives. Of course, they do not think that they will all live to see the sun of the century birthday morning, but they do hope to prolong life and make their older years happier because of better conditions.

There is nothing in the nature of human life to prevent people attaining the age of 100 years. In fact, many men and women in the United States claim to have reached the century mark and are still among the living. In other ages, according to history, the correctness of which few dispute, men engaged in active outdoor occupations rounded out several hundred years of existence.

Work is the great panacea, the life-giver and health-restorer of humanity. It is not work that kills the body. It is worry, hurry and grind to make money that opens the grave. It is not the use of the good things of life that carries the people to the cemeteries of rest, but the intemperate misuse of the things intended for enjoyment and pleasure. After all, man is just about as old as he thinks and it is better to think of youth and its joys than to worry about old age and its disappointments.

THE CALL TO THE LAND

The Department of Agriculture says the danger of a food shortage in the United States is practically over because of good crops and better facilities for distribution. Such reports create confidence and induce more general stability. There is an indication of contentment and restfulness that promises wiser and more careful consideration of public questions.

But while conditions are changing and better days are in prospect, it is well for the people generally to give more thought to the call of the land. There must be more building on the farm and less loafing in the city. The future of the Nation demands a more stable and dependable agriculture. This cannot be expected until the farm is made more enticing and tilling the soil becomes more alluring financially.

NO BIBLE, WHAT THEN

REV. EDMONDS ANSWERS THIS QUESTION AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The ninth sermon in the "Live Questions" series given by Rev. W. E. Edmonds last night at the Presbyterian Church, was on the question, "The Bible Disposed of, What Then?" with the text from Jer. 36: 22 and 23—"Now the king sat in the winter house, in the ninth month; and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him. And it came to pass, that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with a penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth." Following are a few thoughts from the sermon:

There is altogether too much laxness today regarding parental authority—too much of children telling their parents where to "head in at." The thing this old world needs more than anything else is a "Thus saith the Lord," overbalancing a tendency to set aside authority and especially the authority of God's word. A man is a fool that turns his back upon God. We believe that the Bible is a rule for our life, we believe it from cover to cover, regardless of modern critics. True science has never been out of harmony with the word of God. We are always safe to be on the opposite side of skeptics and modern science, although I believe in keeping in touch with modern thought in so far as modern thought throws light upon the word of God. You can take your penknife and cut out the pages of this old Book if you choose, and burn them in the fire, but you can't change one iota of the fundamentals of the Word of God by so doing. Modern scholarship has never brought a soul out of the degradation and darkness of sin and brought him into the light. This Book of Books never tries to discover God, it pre-supposes that "God is." Go back and back and back through the ages until your head is dizzy and you still find that "God is." A step further, cut out the things you don't like and throw them in the fire, and you can't change the fact that sin still remains. Cut the old Book to pieces but you can't quiet conscience. Think of for all ages hearing the voice of conscience crying, "Lost, lost, lost." "God hath concluded all under sin." Cut up the old Book and burn it, yet there is another fact that remains and that is death—men everywhere believe in death. "It is appointed unto man once to die." There is just a heartbeat between us and eternity. This Book is the only thing that tells how to have victory over death. I am not willing to part with the 23rd Psalm yet—are you? Death makes cowards. Death is the result of sin. Unless the Lord shall come presently the only way we can get into heaven is to die.

It means "Home, sweet home." "There is no friend like Jesus, there is no place like heaven." Cut out the Bible and you haven't touched immortality—it is burned deep into the heart of every human being that some day we shall live again. Cut out the pages if you please and burn the Book, the fact still remains that this Book is the noonday sun of life, and when you cut it out you blot out everything worth while. A sunless world would be no more of a calamity than a Bibleless world. You might as well try to burn up God as to burn up His Word. You can't hurt the Book by refusing to believe it—you are the one who suffers. Voltaire missed it a million miles when he said it would be just a hundred years and the Bible would be extinct. The old Word stands true. Find some place for it in your life. It will make you stranger and better, it will carry you safe through all the storms and at last you shall be forever with the Lord. I think it is worth while, don't you?

existence that turning between crossings is not allowed on Broadway between Central avenue and Glendale avenue, and on Brand boulevard between Wilson avenue and Colorado street. For many months the ordinance was not enforced, and now, since there has been an attempt to enforce it, an unusual amount of confusion has arisen. The Evening News is not here to say whether the ordinance is a wise one or not, but it is in place for us to say that under present conditions there is considerable danger and much dissatisfaction arising from the partial attempt to enforce the ordinance.

That the requirements of the ordinance might be fully understood there should be suitable signs at the intersections of streets, giving notice that turning of autos between streets is not allowed, and after such signs are properly posted the ordinance should be carefully enforced. As it is at present it is generally understood by those familiar with the requirements of the law that there is to be no turning of autos between streets, and thus the driver so understanding drives along without anticipating another driver turning his auto directly in front of him, as is the case now with a partial enforcement of the law. There is not a day passes but dozens of autos turn between the crossings, and whether these drivers do this on account of ignorance of the law, or whether they do it in direct violation of the law makes but little difference so far as their being the cause of what might be serious auto accidents.

If an auto driver is expecting that some one may turn across the street in front of him at any time he is looking out for such happenings, but when it has been announced that such actions are contrary to law he, of course, thinks his way is clear without watching the driver in front of him. If the law is worth enforcing in part it is worth enforcing entirely, and to do this successfully proper notice should be given in prominent places on the street affected and officers should be on the constant alert to call the attention of violators to the requirements of the law so that its absolute enforcement may be accomplished.

BUILDING NEW HOME

E. L. OSBORNE STILL IMPROVING WEST BROADWAY TRACT

E. L. Osborne, a retired banker of Montrose, Colo., who came to Glendale last year after spending two or three winters here previously, and opened up for further settlement his tract of land lying between Salem and Broadway, Columbus avenue and Pacific avenue, has sold his beautiful home at 127 North Columbus avenue which was the first to be built after the new subdividing and moved to 1020 South Glendale avenue. He sold off many of his lots facing both ways on Wilson avenue, and more than a dozen fine homes have been built on these. Mr. Osborne has just employed Contractor I. Cline to build for him a five-room residence at 406 West Wilson avenue, to cost $4000. The permit for Mr. Osborne's residence at 127 N. Columbus about a year ago called for an expenditure of $2700, and it is a 6-room modern home with many new and expensive features.

ANNUAL TAX BURDEN IS VERY HEAVY

Recent treasury reports show that the amount of taxes collected from the American people during the fiscal year ended June 30th exceeded the collections in any previous twelve months in the nation's history. They amounted to over $6,000,000,000 or a per capita collection of about $60.

With a negligible exception this tremendous sum was levied directly upon the business and income of the people. In the second year following the armistice the direct taxation levied upon the people was approximately twelve times as much as was levied in the year preceding the war.

In all but the last decade of the period preceding the world war, direct taxation was unimportant. Nearly all the revenue required for the conduct of the government was derived from protective tariffs on imports and from taxes upon articles classed as luxuries—beer, wine, whiskey, tobacco and cigarettes. A small amount was received in fees for public service directly rendered and in the more recent years from a tax on income.

Aside from the receipts from duties on imports levied to afford proper protection to American industry against foreign competition, the people expect henceforth to pay direct taxes to sustain the government, that is, a tax on domestic business and earnings. There is no other way out, in view of recent legislation, and the war debt has imposed a heavy annual burden in addition to the cost of current government expenses.

But six billions of taxes is a large economic item. Under the present tax schedule inequities and unnecessary hardships are being suffered; business and industry is being stifled by the excess profits tax and the less prosperous consumers are harassed by a penny-pinching "luxuries" tax that touches the users of real luxuries scarcely at all. While subject to considerable reduction the annual tax burden will be heavy for several years to come and this fact should spur the government and congress to remove all the inequities and avoidable hardships of the present tax law.—Oakland Tribune.

YESTERDAY

The political orator delights in pointing with pride to the great achievements of the men of yesterday. He lives in the past and dwells upon the memories of the dead. His listeners yawn a little, prop their eyes open with broken matches, or let their heads go a-nodding. Then he changes the staging by calling down the anathemas of somebody on his partisan enemies. That causes the men of today to sit up and take notice of things not connected with yesterday.

There is something very elusive about yesterday. Yesterday is not a word to tie to, in this age of progression, for it will bring disappointment. It matters not what good deeds our fathers performed, nor what wonderful feats they accomplished. The work was done under conditions existing at that time. We do not do things today as did our forefathers. The inventing geniuses have changed the plans, made over the rules and adopted new ideas. They have forced the people of today to get out of the ruts of dreamland and stand on the hilltops of real life.

Forget yesterday.

A REVOLUTION IN AIRCRAFT

The science of aviation is hardly established when along comes a new type of construction which promises to revolutionize the industry. We refer to the all-metal type of plane known as the Larsen airplane, which last Sunday established a new American record for non-stop flights. The machine which performed the trick started from Omaha and on the evening of the same day landed about thirty miles west of Philadelphia, 1,200 miles from the starting point. The landing was made on account of darkness. By deviations from the straight course due to loss of way it is claimed that the machine covered 1400 miles in a flying time of less than eleven hours.

The advantages of the all-metal machine, which is made of a secret composition containing aluminum, are several. To begin with, it is more substantial. In tests made of the strength of the wings eighty-five men are said to have stood on the forty-eight foot spread without injury to the machine. This type is a monoplane and thus does away with the complicated wood and wire braces and struts to be found in the old models. In war we should hear no more of machines falling in flames if the wings were of metal rather than of fabric.

Then there is the advantage of fuel and power. The Larsen plane requires but five gallons of gasoline to drive it 1000 miles. One of the old models uses up forty-six gallons in an hour to negotiate the same distance. The latter model, it is said, requires two 400-horsepower Liberty engines to propel it; the new all-metal machine is driven by one 160-horsepower engine.

Prominent American aircraft manufacturers and army air service officials who have witnessed the performances of the machine agree that it is certain to revolutionize the industry.

H. C. OF RICE ANGRERS CHINESE LABORERS

SHANGHAI (By Mail.)—Labor troubles that threaten to reach the proportion of the I. W. W. agitation in the United States are sweeping over China today as a result of an unprecedented increase in the price of rice, chief article of diet among the native population of the Orient. The price has mounted to $12.20 a picul—133 1-3 pounds—more than twice the normal costs of the commodity.

Citing their high cost of rice, the carpenters and masons in Shanghai have gone on strike and similar labor disturbances are reported from all sections of the republic. There have been some minor outbreaks and police guards on night duty have been doubled in number in all of the principal cities and settlements.

Excessive exports of rice to Japan is the reason given for the rise in the price of foodstuffs. The crop this year is normal but a shortage exists in this country. The government has forbidden the exportation of rice not only from this country to others but from province to province but smuggling is known to be carried on extensively and the situation is daily growing more serious.

NET VICTORIES ABROAD TO HELP GAME IN U. S.

(By a United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The triumphal return of America's tennis aces from conquering Europe's best, both in the Davis cup preliminaries and in the national tournament at Wimbledon is bound to have a very strong effect in stimulating tennis in the United States. Also the fact that William M. Johnston, our national champion, will be allowed to enter the challenge round in the national singles at Forest Hills, is bound to attract one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a tennis match.

When William T. Tilden survived the eliminations in the Wimbledon tournament while Johnston was beaten has led a great many followers of the net game to acclaim Tilden a greater tennis player than Johnston. It is extremely doubtful, however, if this is the case, although Tilden probably has improved some over his game of a year ago.

It will be recalled that Tilden defeated Johnston about a year ago at Longwood, but that when the actual tennis test came—that at Forest Hills in the national singles—Johnston came through with a remarkable display of court work and defeated Tilden in the final round.

Aside from Maurice McLaughlin this country never has seen a greater tennis player than Johnston. And it isn't at all certain that the Comet's wonderful smashing game would have passed Johnston as it did others. Johnston is a small chap and his physique isn't strong, but he always is able to go through a tournament with something in reserve for the finals. He plays a strong game at all times. He isn't master of all strokes, but his placement shots are wonderful and he can volley at the net with the best of them. Tilden probably has at his command a greater variety of strokes than the champion, but he hasn't the ability to control his game as has Johnston.

RUSSIAN DUPLICITY.

The Bolshevik leaders, apparently, are quick to learn. Having been tricked into an ignominious peace at Brest Litovsk by the Germans, they are applying the same tactics in armistice negotiations with the Poles.

Evidence is multiplying that the Reds have no desire to end hostilities with Poland while they are gaining advantages on the battlefield. Without allied aid to Poland, that country will be under Russ rule in another week.

But will the Russian Bolshevik leaders stop when they have conquered Poland? This question just now is giving allied leaders food for serious thought.

"DEAD" INDIAN STROLLS HOME TO CLAIM OIL LAND "HEIRS" LEASED

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., August 7.—(United Press.)—Ball Coon, a full blooded Cherokee Indian, believed dead by his relatives, arrived just in time recently to prevent his oil property from being leased. The "Night Hawk" strolled into the office of Gabe E. Parker, superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes, to claim his land after it had been leased by his "heirs" and the papers forwarded to the department of interior at Washington for approval.

Coon's parents died ten years ago and he immediately departed to join a wild west show. Failure to hear from Coon led his relatives to the belief that he had died.

Several weeks ago an oil company asked for possession of Coon's land and relatives obtained an affidavit that he was dead. His heirs affixed their signature to the lease and then sent it to Washington.

In the district court of Washington county, proceedings were instituted for the naming of an administrator.

When Joe Lynch, probate attorney of Stillwell, identified Coon, Parker immediately wired Washington to hold up action on the lease.

Coon spoke nothing but the Cherokee language when he left and today warbles good English. He has forgot his native tongue.

COST OF SICKNESS NEARLY DOUBLES

NEW YORK, August 9.—(United Press.)—Hospital supplies in New York City have increased 63 per cent during the last year, according to figures made public by the Post-Graduate hospital here. Twenty-five articles used in the hospitals were found to have increased this amount. In ten years the increase has been enormous.

In meats alone the boosts from 1910 to 1920 range from 86 per cent, for pork to 183 per cent, for beef, with mutton, lamb, and veal showing gains of 183, 154 and 92 per cent respectively.

Alcohol, tongue depressors, apricots, cotton and X-ray plates all have plunged into that race for supremacy in the percentages of increased cost. Alcohol is one of the most difficult commodities to obtain and at the same time one that a hospital cannot do without. Post-Graduate uses six barrels of it every month, principally for sterilization. But strict government control of the sale of alcohol forced the hospital on one occasion to pay $50 per cent in excess of last year's price. The required application for permission to purchase alcohol, tax free, had been delayed on its way to or in Washington and the hospital to satisfy its demands was required to purchase a small quantity at the rate of $6.20 a gallon, when the price at the time, with the permit, was 85 cents a gallon.

Other articles included in the commodities which have joined in the price jump were thermometers, rubber gloves, dried vegetables, sugar, tomatoes, glycerine, cotton, waste, rubber throat bags, towels, paper napkins, sheets, spreads, toilet soap, washing powder, chip soap and cocaine.

Yet, despite the enormously increased cost of sickness, people continue to get sick. Post Graduate's patient attendance for the present year will exceed that of any past year and her dispensary has become so crowded that ten new consulting rooms are required at once.
